

Ami E. Doshi, Pharm.D., R.Ph., J.D.
Biography

Dr. Ami E. Doshi graduated from the Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy, Rutgers University with honors in 2004. She then attended Seton Hall Law as a distinguished scholar in health law and graduated cum laude in 2007. While at Seton Hall she was the Symposium Editor of the SETON HALL LAW REVIEW organizing A Delicate Balance: The FDA's Drug and Device Regulations, Public Health, Intellectual Property and the Economy and publishing The Cost of Clear Skin: Balancing the Social and Safety Costs of iPLEDGE with the Efficacy of Accutane (Isotretinoin). Currently Dr. Doshi is an associate attorney at the New York City law firm of Frommer, Lawrence and Haug, LLP. She is also the President of the New Jersey Pharmacists Association.